Gathering in God's Presence

 Please Stand as you are able.*

 Call to Worship: (Based on Psalm 96 and Luke 2:1-14)

Pastor: Sing to our God a new song; Sing to our God all the earth.

People: Glory to God in the highest heaven, Peace on earth to all!

Pastor: The heavens are telling the glory of God, let the earth rejoice, let trees of the forest sing for joy!

People: Glory to God in the highest heaven, Peace on earth to all!

One: Rejoice, and do not be afraid! For see — I am bringing you good news of great joy for all people: those who have walked in the gloom of discouragement and despair have seen a great Light.

Come surely, Lord Jesus,
As dawn follows night,
Our hearts long to greet You, as roses, the light.
Salvation draws near us, our vision engage.
One candle is lit for the Hope of the age.

One: Rejoice, rejoice, and do not be afraid! For those who have lived in lands shadowed by oppression and unspeakable violence, even on them the Light has shined.

Come, quickly, shalom, teach us how to prepare for a gift that compels us with justice to care.
Our spirits are restless till sin and war cease.
One candle is lit for the reign of God's peace.

One: Again I say, rejoice! For though the night of grief and sorrow should cover us, and the Light around us become night, still there is One for whom even the night is as bright as the day.

Come, festively sing while awaiting the birth, join angels in dancing from heaven to earth.
Wave banners of good news, lift high thankful praise.
One candle is lit for the joy of these days.

One: And yet again I tell you, rejoice! For though hate and fear reign today, in truth the shadow is only a small and passing thing. The light of love shines even in darkness, and darkness cannot overcome it.

Come, wander where lion and lamb gently play,
where evil is banished and faith takes the day,
a babe in a manger to fool the world's eyes.
One candle is lit for God's loving surprise.

One: Now we light the CHRIST CANDLE. It is a symbol of the Light of Christ which has come into the world. People of God, rejoice, for a child has been born for us, a son given to us; authority rests upon his shoulders; and he is named Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting God, Prince of Peace.

All Sing:

O Come, All Ye Faithful

#135, v. 1-3

 Invocation [Unison]

O God of the Baby of Bethlehem, we come into your presence with praise and thanksgiving. We hear the glad tidings of the angel voices, we come to experience this good news of great joy for all the people.

As the shepherds traveled to Bethlehem, we have traveled here – some are excited, expectant, hopeful; some are mourning, some are a bit skeptical. Let the words of sacred scripture seep into our hearts, to be treasured and pondered anew. We are here; we are ready, O God!

Let the light of your love break forth! Amen.

Readings

First Reading

Isaiah 9:2-6 (NRSV)

The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness— on them light has shined.

You have multiplied the nation, you have increased its joy; they rejoice before you as with joy at the harvest, as people exult when dividing plunder. For the yoke of their burden, and the bar across their shoulders, the rod of their oppressor, you have broken as on the day of Midian. For all the boots of the tramping warriors and all the garments rolled in blood shall be burned as fuel for the fire.

For a child has been born for us, a son given to us; authority rests upon his shoulders; and he is named Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

(Hymn # 129)

Gospel Reading

Luke 2:1-20 (NRSV)

In those days a decree went out from Emperor Augustus that all the world should be registered. This was the first registration and was taken while Quirinius was governor of Syria. All went to their own towns to be registered.

Joseph also went from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to the city of David called Bethlehem, because he was descended from the house and family of David. He went to be registered with Mary, to whom he was engaged and who was expecting a child.

While they were there, the time came for her to deliver her child. And she gave birth to her firstborn son and wrapped him in bands of cloth, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn. (Hymn # 133)

In that region there were shepherds living in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. Then an angel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid; for see—I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah, the Lord. This will be a sign for you: you will find a child wrapped in bands of cloth and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace among those whom God favors!" (Hymn # 125)

When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go now to Bethlehem and see this thing that has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us." So they went with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the child lying in the manger. When they saw this, they made known what had been told them about this child; and all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds told them. But Mary treasured all these words and pondered them in her heart.

The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them. (Hymn # 148)

Continuing Testament – Living Psalm for Christmas Day, by Maria Mankin

It's a lot to ask of a baby, isn't it – even one who has been foretold, even one whose parents took the word of angels – to be the savior we've longed for all these lonely years.

Shivering, we wait around the manger beside the woman who risked it all,
who heard God's word and was glad of it,
only to end up in a drafty barn, resting with animals and shepherds and the expectations of countless generations swaddled and silent in her arms.

Beside her stands the man who believed a dream is real enough to stake
a life on, a future, his reputation –
all on the ask of an angel
who came while he slept.
He put it all into God's hands,
himself, this baby, and the woman
he pledged to marry.

We are less welcome than the shepherds,
less than the little drummer boy (and he was very unwelcome that first night),
not because God's grace is withheld from us,
but because we don't take what is offered.
We turn from the stable as empty handed as the Magi, desperate for another road home.

There is no other way though,
no way to go but through,
where the fear lives, and where we must challenge those who want to strike down
all that is good
before it has even begun.

There is only this:
faith in those frightening dreams
of angels; hope in the desperate faces we turn from on the street and in the mirror; joy in the strident necessary cries of babies; and love in the face of all that seems wrong.

It's a lot to ask of ourselves, isn't it,
to be as brave as the stories we tell?
But after all, every character was once born, like you, and like me, with no idea what might happen next.

(Hymn # 124)
