A Season of Curiosity and Discovery

Dear Friends in Christ,

It is a joy and a privilege to be joining you in this next season of ministry. Every beginning carries a holy mixture: gratitude for the paths that have carried us this far, hope for the future God is even now unfolding, and a fair measure of anxious anticipation about what lies just ahead. I certainly carry all of these with me as I step into life among you! Gratitude, because God has already been so faithful; hope, because God is never finished with us; and anticipation — tinged with a bit of nerves — because stepping into the unknown is both exciting and unsettling. Still, that is precisely where the Spirit seems to do some of God's best work. I come to you with a commitment to Christ's vision for the church and with a calling to walk alongside congregations in seasons of transition. Over the years, mentors and companions have taught me that ministry at its best is about perceiving the beauty of people and communities — even in moments of uncertainty — and discovering where God is already stirring, already breathing life, already inviting the church to blossom into its calling to reveal and to embody the kin-dom of God. So, I look forward to learning your stories, sharing in worship, and exploring with openness (and yes, sometimes a bit of anxious wonder!) the particular ways God's Spirit is alive in this congregation.

One truth I have come to know in ministry with congregations in transition is that there are no simple diagnoses of "what is wrong" or quick prescriptions for "what must be done." Congregations — like the people who make them up — are wonderfully complex. There are layers upon layers of history, memory, longing, and hope to be honored and sorted through with care. Too often, those on the outside try to tell simplistic stories about who we are — pointing to faults, offering easy judgments, or imagining quick fixes — without grasping the depth or breadth of the reality we live. Yet it is precisely within the fullness of our real story — with its blessings and its burdens — that God's renewing work takes root and begins to bear fruit. Our task together is not to flatten this richness into tidy answers, but to approach it with attentiveness and holy wonder, listening for the Spirit's leading within it.

This interim time, then, is a gift. It invites us to pause, to take stock, and to practice a posture of openness about who we are and who we are becoming. Together, we will ask some of the most vital questions of faith and community:

- Who are we, at our heart and core?
- Who are our neighbors, the ones God has given us to love?
- Who is God calling us to become, as we prepare for the ministry yet to come?

The answers will not be found in data and statistics, but in the passions of our hearts, the wisdom of our memories, and the courage of our imagination. These conversations will sometimes come easily; at other times they will stretch us. We may encounter friction, for honesty about our past and boldness about our future can awaken differences of opinion. Yet disagreement is not defeat. It is not a battle to be won. It is the sacred work of discerning together — listening with care, learning with humility, and being shaped more fully into Christ's body through our diversity.

My prayer is that this season will be marked by openness, by kindness, and most of all by a spirit of faithful exploration — that it will be a time of discovery, a time of trust, and a time when we glimpse together what it means to be God's people in this place and in this moment. Thank you already for the warmth of your welcome. I am grateful beyond words for the privilege of walking this road with you.

Grace and peace,
Jeff

FROM THE MINISTRIES OF BUCC

On Sunday October 5, we will collect a special offering: Neighbors in Need (NIN) is a special mission offering of the United Church of Christ that supports ministries of justice and compassion in the United States. The Neighbors in Need offering supports ministries of justice and compassion, with one-third of the offering given to the Council for American Indian Ministries and the remaining two-thirds supporting UCC justice ministries. In 2025 the Neighbors in Need Offering supported 26 grant recipients across the UCC who were engaged in projects of direct service and advocacy.

Thank you for your support and generosity!

Colony Cupboard - We are continuing to support the Colony Cupboard! This is a resource for students at Brecksville Broadview Hts High School who need essentials and school supplies. We donated a trunk full of supplies recently and they are grateful for our continued support. Based on student needs for the new school year, below is the updated list of supplies they are requesting:

Markers, highlighters, binders, graph paper, & headphones

Donations are collected in the back of the church.

The All Saints' Day service is a loving and reverent remembrance of loved ones who have passed away this year (from November of 2024 to the present). Please submit the names of your departed loved ones and friends to the office email at buccoffice23@gmail.com, or by calling Miranda at (440) 526-4364 by October 29th. All submitted names will be recognized during a moment of silence during the service.

"We Remember" Table - Pictures are a loving way to remember family and friends who have passed into the next life, recently or long ago. A dedicated table space will be available in Pilgrim Hall after our All Saints' Day Sunday Service (11/2), for you to share a picture of someone who was dear to you, no matter when they passed away. Please bring your loved one's photo downstairs to the WE REMEMBER TABLE before church. You may write a short dedication at that time or bring one with the picture.
